26th February 2015

Dear Parents/Carers of Year 10 students

For Your Information, no action required.

On Wednesday 4th March 2015 the Philosophy and Ethics department will be delivering a day of teaching and reflection on the value of human life. This will link into the Medical Ethics unit that is taught as part of the GCSE. This will take place between periods 1-4 so students will resume their normal timetable for period 6.

Students will work on a range of issues including how we value human life, is all life equal in value as well as issues surrounding abortion and euthanasia and reflections on personal views.

We hope that your son/daughter will find this day both educational and inspiring. If you have any questions please do not hesitate to get in touch with myself.

Yours faithfully

Mrs D Coote
Head of RS/Philosophy and Ethics
