Dear Parents/ Students

Please find attached your son/daughter's first progress review. As we have now completed six weeks of the AS courses you will appreciate that it is early days to be grading the students but as Year 12 is not generous in timeframe I am anxious that we all get a feel for how your son/daughter is performing early on.

On the review you will see that that there is a target grade for the end of Year 12. These targets are formulated nationally involving GCSE performance data before our own subject staff approve them. The subject staff have commented on the level of progress your son or daughter is making towards their target grade.

Please discuss this review with your son/daughter, it is an indication of how your son/ daughter is adapting to the increased demands of Advanced Level Study. It is important to stress to your son/daughter that the grades shown are targets; they can be exceeded or missed depending on the quality of study that is undertaken.

The Engagement score is based on a numbered scale as shown by the descriptors overleaf. If your son/daughter is confused by the grade or score they have been given then they must discuss it with their subject teacher in the first instance as this dialogue is an important element of A level study. The students will have an individual discussion with their form tutor and an opportunity to set themselves targets to work on before the next review.

If you have any concerns arising from this report please contact the school, in the first instance this should be via your son/daughter's form tutor.

Yours faithfully

Louisa Fielding
